■ Introduction

The School of Business and Technology Management (IT Business) offers intensive programs with a goal to cultivate leaders in the IT business world. The program aims to seek powerful and effective answers to management problems related to IT business sectors. The program focuses on providing interdisciplinary education in order to foster IT leaders with knowledge in engineering, and offers fundamental courses from different academic areas including business, economics, information sociology, and engineering. This program provides two tracks: IT-Management, IT-Economics/Policy.
