

Financial Engineering Program

Homepage: <http://www.business.kaist.ac.kr/kgsf/>

Office: +82)2-958-3124

Overview

To train financial engineering specialists with global competitiveness and research skills, MFE program aims for the area of quantitative asset management, finance product design and pricing, risk management. All courses are designed to 1.5 credits so students can flexibly choose necessary courses. In addition, they can be focused on solving on-site problem with latest technique as well as understanding global practice. All 2nd year students are required to study at the collaborating global business schools in USA, UK, and Canada during the spring semester to be a global finance specialist. Global study program offers an opportunity to enhance global business capabilities