Course Introduction

This is a year-long master's program operated in connection with 19 departments at KAIST with a focus on problem-solving education through hands-on practice instead of existing research-centered education; it fosters student acquisition of knowledge related to entrepreneurship and business startups.